WILCOX & GIBBS SEWING MACHINE.

We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:

It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip in wear;

It is entirely noiseless;

A patented device prevents its being turned backward;

The needle cannot be set wrong;

Can be used successfully without other instructions than accompany the Machine;

It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1862. For particulars, enquire of Presidential Speech-Making.

Of whatever other faults Mr. President Johnson may be accused, certainly he will never be charged with extraordinary reticence. He has a speech for all times and all occasions. He seldom varies his style of speaking, or the subject-matter of his addresses or responses, and always talks with the readiness and volubility of a professional stump orator. The animus of all his speeches is the same, and all his remarks are pitched in the same key. No matter what the occasion, or what the surroundings—whether the address is in response to a call from a delegation of the Virginia Legislature, or in reply to a deputation from Montana—whether it is a fierce harangue to the excited rebel populace at Washington, or a speech at a negro celebration—the theme is invariably the same. "Me and my policy" is the burden of his inevitable discourse, and its animating, inspiring idea, the belief that all who disagree with the one or oppose the other, are traitors who would destroy our form of government and consolidate all power in the hands of an irresponsible oligarchy. The doctrine is sedulously inculcated in all his speeches that the Congress which was elected by the people who delivered Mr. Johnson's own State from the rule of secession, and who overcame the rebellion at a cost which they alone can estimate because they bore the sacrifices of the struggle, is dangerous to the welfare of the country. He attempts also to create great sympathy for himself among the people by telling them that he has the herculean task thrown upon him of defending the life of the Government against the attacks of those who are determined to concentrate all the power in a few hands, and thus destroy the admirable system of Government which was contrived for us by our fathers, and which is guarded by checks, and balances and limitations in such a way as to conduce in the best manner to the maintenance of liberty. His own standard of honesty and loyalty is the one by which all are to be tried, and his "policy," the Procrustean bed to which the views of all men must be stretched or pruned. In his opinion none can have the good of the country at heart unless they fall in with his ideas on the subject of reconstruction. None can be Unionists who do not hasten to forsaken their own opinions and at once adopt his "plan." Says he: "The Radicals are not the Union party. I do not mean by the Union party those who oppose my policy, but such as stand by me." He gives those who oppose his views no credit for sincerity of purpose, but asserts that they are making a "hobby" of great practical questions, "that they may be successful in obtaining and keeping power." In short, he presents himself before the country as the embodiment of all political wisdom, the incarnation of patriotism—the man in whom is summed up every quality which gives its possessor the stamp of greatness, and who is the impersonation of honor, purity and fidelity to the country, as others are (in his opinion) traitors because they do not believe with him in all things, or receive his dictum as the established law of the land.

These may be severe words, but they have the warrant of palpable facts. His many speeches are on record, and they show for themselves. We are not reduced to the strait of drawing conclusions as to his opinions from a single speech, but we have a score of them which he has delivered since last December, all having the same unmistakable tendency. They all show him to be egotistical, passionate and obstinate a man who is too much intoxicated with power to bear himself with becoming moderation. The contrast between him and his great predecessor, in these respects, may perhaps make it more difficult to judge of him charitably, than it otherwise would be; yet the fact is patent that no one who has occupied the place he holds, ever exhibited that degree of imperious arrogance, personal resentment and presumptuous obstinacy which he has shown. To prove these things it is only necessary to review his acts and speeches of the few past months. Congress and the people will be more just and charitable toward him than he has been toward them. They will not call him a traitor as he has them, nor heap abuse upon him in the bitter language which he has used, but they will insist on retaining their own opinions on national affairs, and try the differences which now exist or which may hereafter arise, in a proper, constitutional way, before the bar of an impartial public judgment.

James O'Meara's "Loyalty."

SALEM, April 24, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

As evidence of the disloyalty of James O'Meara, allow me to call your attention to a fact which is on record in the office of the Secretary of State. Before the democracy of Richmond surrendered to "Butcher" Grant, Governor Gibbs ordered an advertisement inserted in O'Meara's paper, about some matters pertaining to the State. For publishing the same he had a small bill against the State which he presented to Secretary May for payment. The Secretary informed him that he could not draw the warrant until he took the oath of allegiance prescribed by the laws of Oregon, in the following form:

> OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.
> I, ...do solemnly......that I will support, protect and defend the Constitution and Government of the United States, against all enemies, whether foreign or domestic, and that I will bear true faith, allegiance and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution, or law of any State Convention or Legislature to the contrary, notwithstanding; and, further, that I do this with a full determination, pledge and purpose, without any mental reservation or evasion whatsoever; and, further, that I will well and faithfully perform all the duties which may be required of me by law, So help me God!

In reply, Mr. O'Meara wrote that he "COULD NOT TAKE THE OATH, HE NEVER HAD COMMITTED PERJURY AND NEVER WOULD." It is an official matter and the letter is on file in the Secretary's office; everybody can come and see it.

Look at the oath—could any Union loving man object to it? Can any Union man vote for O'Meara! Certainly not, as the fact above shows that his hounted loyalty is a sham.

Yours, &c., T.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE PEOPLE.—The Vancouver Register closes an excellent article under the above caption, with the following paragraph:

> Listen to the voice that goes up from Tennessee, from Connecticut, from every State that stood by the Government in 1861. That voice is more united, more resolved, now than then. The will of the people is the law of this nation, and that will must be done. The people seek no quarrel with their President. They have given him place, honor, and power. They have rewarded his patriotic utterances for the integrity of the nation. They have rewarded his personal and domestic sufferings and sacrifices for the Union. They have done all that the most over-weening estimate of his services and abilities could dictate. But they did not elect him President of the United States. It was the bullet of a Confederate murderer that gave him that election. The people of this nation wanted the hand of Abraham Lincoln on the helm of the ship of State as she swept through the tempests, and over the surging seas, which all saw would drive around her. They gave a place more of honor and of recompense than of important trust to him who now, by the foul decree of murder, is President. That he occupies that seat is not his own fault. It is his; his by constitutional right, but while in it he ought not, and we believe he will not in the end, do the bidding of those whose spirit inspired the rebellion.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that the founders of the "National Johnson party" are now in the attitude of the individual who tried to elevate himself by the seat of his breeches.

State Items.

A. L. Stinson, M. W. G. M. of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Oregon, on the 26th inst., instituted at Salem, "Anniversary Lodge No. 13," with seventeen charter members. The officers elected and installed are as follows: J. W. Smith, N. G.; Benj. Strang, V. G.; P. L. Willis, Recording Secretary; M. R. Cox, Treasurer; Thos. McF. Patton, Permanent Secretary. The appointed officers are, James W. Fisher, W.; Henry Denlinger, O. G.; J. C. Brown, I. G.; Wm. England R. S. of N. G.; A. J. Brown, L. S. of N. G.; J. W. McAfee, R. S. S.; J. A. Baker, L. S. S.; C. M. Cartwright, R. S. of V. G.; R. F. Drake, L. S. of V. G. This new Lodge results from the overgrown membership of Chemeketa No. 1, the oldest and largest lodge in the Portland jurisdiction.

A petition is being circulated at Umatilla, says the Mountaineer, praying the State Legislature to pass a relief bill for the benefit of Mrs. Hall, the widow of the Deputy Sheriff, who was murdered at the time of the arrest of Vaughn.

The Dalles paper states that on Friday morning the hills around that town were white with snow. Rather a forbidding prospect for spring.

The roads over the blue mountains are said to be in a frightful condition at this time, owing to the melting of the vast depth of snow that had accumulated there.

The Copperheads of Josephine county are going into Convention to make nominations; and to sibilate as usual, on the 12th of May.

The Union men of Lebanon, Linn county, raised a flag staff on Saturday, 120 feet in length. At the top of the pole is a large tin eagle, holding in his beak a serpent with a copper head. A good device.

Read your Record and be Confounded

It [the Democracy] rallied around the administration and said to the South you cannot, you must not go * * His who says the Democracy did not flock to the standard of the Union and make its record upon every battle field must ignore the history of the past.—Herald April 28th

The Herald is edited by M. H. Abbott and N Butler, the former being chief. It speaks for the Democracy of Oregon. It assumes to be the organ of that party in this State

Now let us show how the present chief editor of the Democratic organ of Oregon "rallied around the administration"—how he "flocked to the standard of the Union"—and how he said to the South, "you cannot, must not go"—in 1861 when he edited the Democrat at Pittsfield, Pike county Illinois.

On the 12th day of January, 1861, soon after the States of Alabama, South Carolina, Mississippi and Florida had passed their ordinances of secession, the Democrats of Pike county, Illinois, held a convention at Pittsfield, and among other proceedings, adopted the following resolution:

Resolved That in the event of a dissolution of the United States and the resumption by the States of the powers delegated by them to the United States, IT IS OF THE HIGHEST AND MOST VITAL IMPORTANCE for the people of the State of Illinois in particular, and of the Northwest in general TO CONSIDER THE PRACTICABILITY AND ADVANTAGE OF A WESTERN CONFEDERACY, and that we are fully convinced that the free and undisturbed use of the Mississippi river, its mouth and the tributaries thereof, is of vastly more importance to the citizens of the great North west than the contingent enjoyment of the railroads having their eastern termini in New England; and that we have an abiding a faith in the patriotism and integrity of the inhabitants of the Mississippi Valley as we have of those of New England.

On the 17th day of January, 1861, the Democrat (edited by the present Herald chief) said,

We publish the proceedings of this meeting, on the 4th page of to-day's Democrat. We request that the resolutions adopted, be read and pondered over by all our readers. THEY EMBRACE OUR VIEWS COMPLETELY; WE ENDORSE THEM SEVERALLY AND JOINTLY

On the 10th day of January, before the Convention spoken of was held, the Democrat said

In the event of an ultimate and final dissolution of the Union, this thing is self-evident that we (the West) ought TO SEVER ALL POLITICAL RELATIONS WITH THE EASTERN STATES.

Here, then, we find the present spokesman of the Oregon Democracy, in 1861, "rallied to the standard of the 'Union,'" by endorsing fully, completely, "severally and jointly," resolutions in favor of dividing the Union and setting up a Southern Confederacy.

On the 14th of March, 1861, the present editor-in-chief of the Democratic organ of Oregon, said through the Democrat, to the South, "you cannot, must not go," in the following words

FOR OUR PART, WE CONSIDER THE UNION DISSOLVED; NEVER TO BE RE-UNITED.

In connection with these reminiscences, we trust that everybody will remember the late utterances of the Herald that, democracy is the same now as in times past, and that it is the same everywhere. Do not forget, either, that the Herald has published in its own columns, very warm endorsements of itself from every democratic paper in the State, showing that it is recognized as an organ of democracy in Oregon.

We have many choice tit-bits of a sort similar to the above extracts, with which we propose to regale the Herald chief and the party of which that paper is an acknowledged organ

SIMON PURE DEMOCRACY.—The Chicago Times, a leading Democratic newspaper, vents the spirit of simon pure Democracy in the following language, marked by that high-toned patriotism, love of country and devotion to constitutional authority which is characteristic of the Democracy everywhere. The Democracy of Oregon is fully up with the Times in this "living issue":

> "We do not hesitate to declare that it is the solemn duty of the President to [illegible] his words by [illegible]. We do not hesitate to declare that it is the solemn duty of the President to order the arrest of Thaddeus Stevens, Wendell Phillips, Charles Sumner, and their Confederates in Congress and all over the country, for the crime of treason. In no other way can this Northern rebellion be promptly quelled, and the public quiet restored.
> "And if the rump Congress shall not speedily abandon its illegal, revolutionary and lawless practices—[illegible] shall persist in excluding the representatives of eleven States from their rightful seats, and in usurping the powers of the Congress of the United States we do not hesitate to declare that it will become the solemn duty of President Johnson to constitute himself the Cromwell of the time, and disband the rump by military power."

This language, revolutionary and anti republican as it is, is not worse than has been uttered dozens of times in the Reporter at Jacksonville, the News at Eugene City, and the Democrat at Albany, the traitorous sheet through which is dribbled the treasonable mouthings of D J O'Meara, the Democratic candidate for State Printer. The sentiment expressed by the Times is re-echoed by at least nine-tenths of all the leading Democrats in this State, by some, a little guardedly, by others, without an attempt at concealment. Are the voters of Oregon prepared to endorse by their votes, a party committed to the policy of ousting a lawful Congress by a Cromwellian use of the military, unless that Congress speedily ceases to exercise the functions given it by the people under the Constitution and laws of the United States? If not, you cannot vote for the Democratic candidates

O'MEARA ON THE PUBLIC DEBT —The Democratic party has been charged with being in favor of repudiation; the Democratic Convention in this city denied the charge; before, however, it adjourned, the Convention nominated for State Printer one James O'Meara, who but a short time ago, said in the Confederate States Rights Democrat

"We will assure President Johnson that if the people ever get the control of the government THEY WILL EXTINGUISH THE CORRUPT PUBLIC DEBT IN LESS THAN THIRTY DAYS, WITHOUT ANY TAX

O'Meara with that declaration in favor of repudiation still fresh from his pen, received the endorsement of the Democratic convention of Oregon, and will receive the votes of the Democratic party next June O'Meara, however, does not consider it repudiation to refuse to pay an honest debt, and, having his written declaration in favor of repudiation fully before it, the Democratic party of Oregon, having, notwithstanding, made him its standard bearer, it probably looks upon repudiation in the same light To extinguish the public debt without any tax, and, therefore without paying a cent, would not be repudiation, but an honest bit of financiering according to the Democratic idea of national honor [illegible] ESTABLISHMENT.—The manufacture of furniture has become an important source of the wealth of the United States, and there is in this city a most strong, [illegible] establishment in that line of trade to [illegible] by Messrs. Knill, Lowenstein & Co. [illegible] 131 and [illegible] First street, in the new brick block lately erected by Messrs. [illegible]ugh & Clark for Rev. T. H. [illegible] and L. H. Wakefield, Esq. The main building of their establishment is three stories high, of brick, 50 feet, by 95 feet deep, with basement—built specially for Messrs. Knill, Lowenstein & Co at an expense [illegible] and it is a very finely arranged concern. The [illegible] story is of nine feet ceiling and will be devoted to storing of case goods, and wholesale supplies, as [illegible] intend to carry on an extensive furnishing trade in connection with their finished stock. When [illegible] are received from the importers they are stored in [illegible] story, and when it is necessary to open a [illegible] to the cabinet making department in the [illegible] by an apparatus rigged in the rear of the basement. The present supplies for this branch are sufficient [illegible] the basement story. On the first floor we [illegible] 25 by 95 feet, 14 feet ceiling. On the left of [illegible] which is filled to the utmost with a stock of window [illegible] damask, plushes, upholster trimmings, etc., [illegible] (and prices. On the right is a large stock [illegible] paper, mouldings, etc and in the rear and suspended from the ceiling, a fine assortment of [illegible]. The business office of the firm is also [illegible] this room. A flight of stairs leads to the [illegible] floor from the business office, and also [illegible] the street entrance. We had pronounced this [illegible] an extensive establishment but on ascending to the second floor, and standing in the third large [illegible] we find ourself surrounded with a magnificent display of chamber sets, ward-robes, book-cases, office sets [illegible] how we were somewhat astonished would but faintly [illegible] our thoughts. In this room a person can be [illegible] with a set of furniture of that particular class at [illegible] ranging from $40 to $400. Continuing on the [illegible] floor to the adjoining brick store, passing through [illegible] way, we were more astonished to find a [illegible] 25 by 75 feet, devoted as a repository for [illegible] sets of furniture, from the ordinary hair cloth to [illegible] Brocatelle at prices ranging from $75 to $400. On Saturday last there were some sixty sets of [illegible] furniture open for the inspection of the [illegible]. The floors being neatly carpeted in the [illegible] walls being tastefully decorated with mirrors, [illegible] assortment of large Turkish easy chairs, spring [illegible], made this room appear to us the very realm [illegible] is luxurious. The old Sultan of Turkey [illegible] at home in this department of Messrs [illegible] & Co. We were scarcely through [illegible] with the pleasant appearance of things [illegible] when we walked still further to the north, [illegible] fifth larger room, 25 by 60 feet, [illegible] five feet on the second floor, or the [illegible] of three brick stores,) which is well filled [illegible], tops, mirrors, side-boards, pictures, etc. [illegible] as attractive as any through which we had [illegible] have in this department a superb stock, [illegible] and prices of goods. In the rear of the [illegible] the polishing and varnishing room, 25 by [illegible] ing one steps to the main building. In the [illegible] second floor room, we [illegible] story, where is the cabinet shop and upholstery department, in which the manufacturing will [illegible] tied on. This room, like all the others, is [illegible] to the extent of its capacity. We found here [illegible] of black walnut lumber, which is as [illegible] wood as that class of beautiful material [illegible] mahogany, since the loss of supplies [illegible] from Hayti. Black walnut, by a [illegible] is susceptible of the finest polish, and [illegible] for the display of carved work. The [illegible] in all the fine qualities of wood, and [illegible] wood or mahogany to order. After looking [illegible] through entirely, we felt that the [illegible] young men at the head of it deserved more [illegible] for their liberal spirit. There is certainly [illegible] better arranged furniture house in San Francisco [illegible] when we recollect that Mr. Knill, Lowenstein [illegible] commenced the business here in 1862 on a limited [illegible], their present store is evidence of what may [illegible] in Portland, by strict attention to business. The firm is composed of three young men, all of [illegible] practical mechanics. We were informed [illegible] of the company that they had thought of [illegible] the new establishment with an entertainment to [illegible], but circumstances beyond their control [illegible] the building, pressed them for the necessary [illegible] they have been obliged to hurry matters [illegible] in order to be in readiness for the spring trade. [illegible] we find them accommodating gentlemen, [illegible] their establishment to-day to the public [illegible] their ladies and gentlemen through [illegible] and from what we have seen we [illegible] all [illegible], and one which is truly a credit to [illegible] of Oregon.

[illegible] A New York letter, of March 21st, gives [illegible] animated discussion on the 20th, in the [illegible] the report of a conference with the [illegible] expressed the belief that if certain [illegible] were carried out by the butchers, [illegible] be permitted to continue to exist [illegible] the distinct understanding however [illegible] are to be built, and that all which do [illegible] standard marked by the Board shall [illegible]. The Board were not thoroughly [illegible], and very generally agreed that [illegible] must take place in [illegible]. Washington and Fulton markets are [illegible], and will both be removed at no very [illegible]. They have been nuisances for a quarter [illegible] and they have been a [illegible]. Among the documents read before the [illegible] following, which was addressed to the old [illegible]

PORTLAND, OREGON, January 12, 1866. [illegible]—In the year 1852 I came from Iowa to [illegible] Missouri river. While we were making [illegible] the route, on the north side of the Platte [illegible] were hundreds of cases of cholera. Several [illegible] died under my own [illegible]ation. A man [illegible] with one train, took the cholera and [illegible]. We camped in the afternoon, for him to [illegible] that he was speechless, involuntarily purging, and at the point of collapse. I had [illegible] a dose of calomel in my life, and never taken [illegible] to a neighboring train and got some [illegible] gave him a double dose. I had to force [illegible] get it down. I expected him to die in a [illegible]. The next morning he was so well that he [illegible] travel that day. We did so, and in the [illegible] growing worse, and died about [illegible] had not traveled that day he would [illegible] I was very [illegible] at the time, and did [illegible] I don't believe that any bilious [illegible]. If any person wishes to [illegible] let him go away from the [illegible] or swampy parts of the Western [illegible], and stay long enough to [illegible] have been taking the fever.

[illegible] WHITE BLUFFS.—Mr. A. Flanders, of Walla [illegible] stating that we made "a most extraordinary [illegible] on the 21st," in regard to White Bluffs [illegible] extraordinary affair [illegible] was one that the [illegible] and Nez Perces chief have made trips [illegible] this spring loaded with Big Bend and Black[illegible] and provisions, etc. Now we have not the [illegible] to tell these things. Not being a [illegible] we cannot say what those steamers had on [illegible] further than we may have learned from others. [illegible] all parties should disregard minor considerations for the benefit of the whole, in opening up trade [illegible] and as regards the two landings, White [illegible] or Wallula, it matters little which shall do [illegible] so long as the rates charged do [illegible] the trade. We have seen shipper's receipts [illegible] from White Bluffs to Pend d'Oreille lake at five [illegible] and we have also seen several lots of [illegible] on our wharves marked for the same destination [illegible] for Montana, the owners of which must [illegible] have known whether they could get their goods [illegible] not. Mr. Flanders says: "Up to the present [illegible] 26th,) but three steamers have made one [illegible] White Bluffs, and all the merchandise shipped [illegible] amount to forty tons. All the passengers [illegible] return by the same steamer on which they [illegible] exceed ten, and I believe do not amount [illegible] number. Not a wagon or a train loaded [illegible] Blackfoot or Pend d'Oreille Lake has left [illegible] this season; not a single or a saddle train [illegible] for any place. The only persons who have [illegible] by their way to the mines this spring, are [illegible] overland from the Dalles, and but few of [illegible]

[illegible] At a meeting of Crystal Lodge, No. 10, [illegible] held in this city on Tuesday evening last, [illegible] were elected officers for the ensuing quarter: [illegible], W. C. T.; Mrs. Bramhall, W. V. [illegible] W. S.; James Falling, W. F. S.; Mrs. [illegible] W. T.; Wm. Saunders, W. M.; Miss Julia [illegible] I. G.; Fred. W. Ebbinger, W. O. G. At a [illegible] Lodge No. 12, held on Saturday [illegible] were elected as follows: L. H. Par[illegible] Mrs. Boon, W. V. T.; Chas. Talbot, W. [illegible] W. F. S.; Miss Eva Cason, W. T.; [illegible] W. M.; Miss Mary Buffington, W. I. G.; [illegible] W. O. G.

[illegible]—Some practical use has been found [illegible] the lonely and desolate place on San Francisco [illegible] at Saucelito. Among the bills which passed [illegible] the recent legislature of California, was one [illegible] grounds one mile square at that place, for [illegible] suitable buildings will be erected, and [illegible] hereafter entering the Golden Gate [illegible] to undergo inspection thereby. The Health [illegible] to remain in quarantine if any pestilent [illegible] should be on board, until such cases are disposed of. [illegible] danger of a visitation from the cholera has been the [illegible] of this preparation for emergencies.

[illegible]—Sheriff Montgomery of Clatsop county, [illegible] on Saturday night from Astoria with two convicts, sentenced to the Penitentiary at the late term of the Circuit Court, for six months each. One is a soldier [illegible] the 14th Regiment, named John Ward, convicted of stabbing an Indian during a drunken spree. The other [illegible] named Thomas Williams formerly of this city, [illegible] of stabbing a white man. Williams [illegible] objections to going to the Penitentiary but [illegible]. His offense was also committed during a drunken spree.

OREGON CITY MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—At the annual meeting of the above company, held at Oregon City on [illegible] last the following named gentlemen were elected [illegible] Directors for the ensuing year: D. P. Thompson, [illegible], R. Jacobs, L. D. C. Latourette, and James [illegible]. At a meeting of the directors D. P. Thompson [illegible] President, R. Jacobs Vice-President, [illegible] Secretary and L. D. C. Latourette Treasurer. [illegible] White of L. White & Bro. of this city was [illegible] agent for the company.

[illegible]—The steamer John H. Couch, Capt. [illegible], arrived on Saturday evening from Astoria. The [illegible] A. A. Eldridge, for Honolulu, and Jane A. Falkinburg, for San Francisco, have sailed some days since. The barks Helen Allen, for Honolulu, and W. B. Scranton for San Francisco, were waiting on Saturday morning for favorable winds to go out the bar. All steamers [illegible] good time after arriving at Astoria, from [illegible]. The bark Helen W. Almy was discharging [illegible] and stores at Cape Disappointment.

[illegible]—The steam revenue cutter Lincoln is now being looked for at the mouth of the Columbia.

HURDY HOUSES IN IDAHO.—There is a disposition among the [illegible] of Ruby City to have the proprietors of hurdy houses suspend operations or try their health [illegible] or take the chances of an [illegible]. The Avalanche says that they are prolific of [illegible], fights and funerals, than any other common [illegible]

AYRES CHEMICAL PROCESS.—Mr. J. C. [illegible], who has had considerable experience in quartz milling, leaves this city to-day for Owyhee. He has taken an interest [in] the Ayres' process [illegible] and will proceed [illegible] with [illegible] the system into the working [illegible]

SALE OF FURNITURE.—Mr. A. B. Richardson will to-day dispose of the household furniture of W. H. Reed Esq. at the residence corner of North First and D streets near the Vancouver Brewery. See advertisement.

Nitro-Glycerine

In volume 13, page 101 of the Scientific American (a good authority) we find under the heading of "A new explosive substance," a notice of nitro glycerine as a blasting agent. From that article the following paragraph is extracted:

"Glycerine, as we all know is the sweet principle of oil, and is extensively used for the purposes of the toilet, but it has now received an application of rather an unexpected nature. Galignani states that in 1847 a pupil of M. Pelouze, M. S[illegible], discovered that Glycerine when treated with nitric acid, was converted into a highly explosive substance which he called nitro-glycerine. It is oily, heavier than water, soluble in alcohol and ether and acts so powerfully on the nervous system that a single drop, placed on the tip of the tongue, will cause a violent headache that will last for several hours. This liquid seems to have been almost forgotten by chemists and it is only now that Mr. Nobel, a Swedish engineer, has succeeded in applying it to a very important branch of his art—viz blasting. * * * The blasting liquid, which this engineer [illegible] composed of one part of glycerine and three of nitric [illegible] the strength of the latter being [illegible] of the former. The process is very easy. If the channel of the mine presents fissures it must first be lined with clay to make it water tight; then the nitro-glycerine is poured in and water after it which being the lighter liquid remains at the top. A slow match with a percussion cap at one end is then introduced into the nitro-glycerine. The mine may then be sprung by lighting the match, there being no need of tamping. On the 7th June last three experiments were made with this new compound in the open part of the tin mines of Altenburg, in Saxony. In one of these, a chamber 34 millimetres (about 1⅓ inches) in diameter was made perpendicularly [illegible] rock [illegible] feet in length and at a distance of 14 feet from its extremity which was nearly vertical. At a depth of 8 feet a vault filled with clay was found in consequence of which the bottom of the hole was tamped leaving a depth of 7 feet. One litre and a half (three pints) of nitro-glycerine was then poured in, it occupies 5 feet. A match and stopper was then applied as stated and the mine sprung. The effect was so [illegible] as to produce a fissure 50 feet in length, and another 20 feet. The total effect has not yet been ascertained, because it will require several small blasts to break the blocks that have been partially detached by this."

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 10th inst has the following on the same subject:

Nitro-glycerine has been known to chemists for some twenty years, but was first brought forward as a blasting agent in 1864 by M. Nobel, a Swedish engineer. Certain obvious advantages over gunpowder which it possessed attracted attention to it and gained it favor in several European countries. These advantages were, first, the great saving of labor in drilling, inasmuch as a hole five eights of an inch in diameter, when charged with it, would answer the purpose as well as one double that size charged with powder; second, the convenient way of tamping, it being simply necessary to fill up the hole with water—the oil being heavier than water and insoluble in it; third, the fact that one pound of it will do the work of ten pounds of powder, with one-tenth the drilling, and fourth, the fact that, combustion being complete there is no smoke to blacken the ore, which is consequently more easily traced.

In the preparation of this article the utmost care is requisite to guard against explosion. The acids are added to the glycerine alternately and in small quantities, the whole apparatus being surrounded by ice during the operation, in order to secure a constantly low temperature. Either warmth or an excess of acid would induce more rapid chemical action, and thereby increase the danger. Chemical action is both combination and decomposition. One cannot occur without the other. When two liquids which are susceptible of chemical combination are brought in contact, each is decomposed, or resolved into its elements; these interchange their relationship with each other, both of the original substances cease to exist, and a new one, the resulting compound, is formed. The decomposition of this compound may be instantaneous. This is explosion. The compound is at once resolved into its original elements, in the form of gases, which occupy many thousand times the space that sufficed them in their condensed state.

The conditions under which nitro-glycerine explodes do not seem to be yet thoroughly understood, even by its manufacturers. Unlike gunpowder, it cannot be ignited by a spark. At 360° Fahrenheit it will explode. When placed on an anvil and struck with a hammer it detonates like the fulminating powder used in percussion caps; but its patentee claims that the effect is confined to the space covered by the hammer, and that if a number of drops are placed near each other upon the anvil, only the one which is struck will be exploded.

THE NEW COIN.—We have been shown the first coin—a twenty dollar piece—struck from the new dies recently sent to the Branch Mint in this city from the parent institution in Philadelphia. The legend—"In God we Trust"—appears on the obverse side of the coin in an oval of thirteen stars.—S. F. Bulletin, 19th April.

S. T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable perfectly pure and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c. is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

M. HOWARD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE,

315 Montgomery St., San Francisco.

THE ABOVE PREPARATION, WHICH HAS BEEN recently discovered and patented, is purely a Vegetable Extract.

The undersigned are fully aware of the many unsatisfactory and useless preparations for restoring hair that have been introduced to the public, and how little confidence is to be placed in any pretensions to restoring the hair to bald heads, but having tried MR. HOWARD'S PREPARATION, we are able to state that it not only prevents the hair from falling out, but absolutely reproduces it, and that we now have good suits of hair growing where we were entirely bald. Therefore, as a matter of justice to Mr. Howard, and of consolation to bald heads, we tender him this testimonial. Mr. H. keeps the article for sale in bottles with directions for its use, or applies it himself as may be desired.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.,

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Negro Equality and Miscegenation

It is a fact susceptible of easy proof that the Democracy, though professing an abhorrence of "negro equality," have nevertheless practiced miscegenation more than any other class of white persons. Perhaps it is because of their propensity thus to degrade themselves that they want laws forbidding it. A law forbidding miscegenation might have saved the reputation and the virtue of the good Democrat who is spoken of in the following letter from Douglas county to the Jacksonville Sentinel. The facts in this case are notorious and may be easily proved.

The Democratic party have at length in the consummation of the Myrtle Creek Confederacy practical miscegenation. Yes pure unadulterated mixing and it was left to the province of the Democratic party of Douglas county, assembled in convention at Roseburg to unavowedly signify their approval of this [illegible] scions of ex-Southern chivalry, in their unanimous [illegible] and their unanimous election of one severe Democratic delegate to represent Douglas county in the Democratic State Convention recently assembled in Portland.

This Democratic delegate is a believer in miscegenation; this "Democratic" representative practices miscegenation; this "Democratic exponent lives and co-habits with a negro wench; this illustrious pair of birds, with democratic plumage, hold up to the rising generation of the Republican State of Oregon, the revolting example the pernicious practice of Amalgamation in its unrobed and most loathsome aspect. This sweet scented couple are purely democratic in principle—need I say in practice. They are strenuously opposed to Negro equality abolitionism, and while they accord to every human being all his or their just rights, Nature's God and an advancing, exalted destiny forbids and they unqualifiedly oppose the extension of the inferior races! They (these Democratic models) are in favor of a white man's government. I will close this subject with a few truthful questions and answers.

Q. Who co-habits with this negro wench? Who has mulatto children by her?
A. A good Democrat, of Myrtle Creek.
Q. Who represented Myrtle Creek at Roseburg?
A. This same Democrat.
Q. Who afterwards elected this same Democrat to represent Douglas county in the Democratic State Convention for the State of Oregon?
A. The Democratic party.
Q. Who nominated James D. Fay for Congress?
A. The same Democratic State Convention.
Q. Who so much abhor negro equality?
A. The Democratic party.
Q. Who practice negro equality in every State?
A. This Hybridous conclave, with the feloniously assumed title of "DEMOCRATIC PARTY."

Idaho News.

The following items of news are taken from the Idaho Statesman of April 10th and 21st:

Notice has been received at headquarters of this District that three companies of cavalry and two of infantry have been ordered, and are by this time on the way from San Francisco to Idaho, a part of them by the way of the Columbia river and a part by Sacramento by land. When these shall arrive there is reason to hope that the days of Indian murders and robberies will soon come to an end. From the vigorous manner in which Major Marshall keeps the men he has on the move, lively times may be expected when he gets five more companies to work with. There is a better prospect ahead for the security of life and property.

The order of Major Marshall this morning is to abandon Camp Alvord and to move the men to points where they can be more useful. White Horse Creek is to be reinforced by thirty men and the property removed to Camp Lyon.

A friend writing from San Francisco on the 1st inst., says: "I have just seen parties from Chico who tell me that there are some thirty wagons ready to leave for Idaho and Montana. The stage company will be ready to start from Chico in a few days, and in spite of all Web-foot, the Chico route will come out all right yet. My friend, Mr. Craft, of the firm of Vantine & Co., as also your humble servant, are shipping goods that way. Everything looks encouraging for Idaho."

The following order was lately issued by Maj. Marshall, commanding the District of Boise:

1st. The detachment of Co. B, 1st Oregon Cavalry, which has just returned from the Bruneau Valley, with the addition of ten men from Co. D, 2d battalion, 14th infantry, will proceed to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock to Squaw creek. Capt. F. Collins, 14th infantry, is assigned to this command. He will scout Squaw Creek Valley, [illegible] every canyon thoroughly, and will destroy all Indian camps he may find. Should any white men be found in league with the Indians, it is hereby made the duty of Capt. Collins to see that they are hanged by the neck until they are dead.

A correspondent writing from Idaho City, says:

"[illegible] brisk in the [illegible] Returns from the sluices are [illegible] reported at from $2,000 to $15,000 a week; every available inch of water is being used on the hills and in the gulches. The creeks are yet too high to be worked advantageously, but the surplus water is fast running off."

The White boys' claim on Bannock Bar cleaned up on Saturday last, over $14,000; this don't look as though Boise had played out yet. Wages are $7 and laborers scarce at that.

Washington Territory Items.

The U. S. Revenue steamer Lincoln, Capt. J. W. White, is expected immediately at Port Angeles. She sailed from San Francisco on the 28th.

The Vancouver Register, in an article on the signs of prosperity in Vancouver, says: "Two adjoining lots, situated on Fifth street, some three blocks west of Main, and considerably farther from the center of business, brought on Tuesday last at Administrator's sale $785, one-third coin in hand, balance currency at sixty days. One, an inside lot, with a one-story wooden building on it, used as a shop, sold for $525, the other, an unimproved corner lot, sold for $260. These sales, though not very high, indicate unmistakably our present prosperity, and the great advance which has occurred in our real estate in the last few months. Twelve months ago, or even four, this property would perhaps have scarcely found a purchaser, and if so, certainly at figures one-half below those now obtained."

The Register says horses fit for cavalry purposes are bringing $150 and $175.

The Register of the 28th, says: In addition to the statements made last week relative to the test of rock from the Vancouver Ledge, we have now to state that Mr. S. W. Beall took 240 pounds of rock from Columbia Ledge to the Oregon Iron Works, which was crushed and amalgamated by Mr. W. H. Farrar, who did the work for Mr. Lawrence, and returned $1 64 gold and $1 32 silver, making a yield of $24 69 to the ton. The rock was not selected, but taken from perhaps three hundred pounds thrown out by a blast sunk two feet on the ledge.

The M. E. Church and Sunday School at Vancouver propose to have a picnic on the 9th of May.

The "Ladies' Industrial Society" is making preparations for a "strawberry festival." It will not take place till winter closes.

The editor of the Salt Lake Vedette has received a letter written in blood—or red ink—which reads—"No Skedaddle! It is the "red hand" of the Destroying Angels, and threatens assassination. The editor is not much frightened by the order, but says:

"Well, we shall keep the document, and leave our readers to judge whether we are much frightened. If these miserable hounds and cut-throats think they can intimidate the Vedette, why they are simply mistaken. We have spoken plainly in the past, and we shall speak still more plainly in the future, holding ourselves accountable only to God, our conscience, and the laws of the land."

The following day the editor received another warning, of which he says

We stop the press to give place to the following "Now," as the lark said to the young ones, "it is time for us to leave!" We could stand the "bloody hand" and the "skedaddles" of the other warnings, but the following gets us. Just count us out!

SALT LAKE CITY, April 9th 1866.

MR. EDITOR VEDETTE: If you don't quit abusing Stenhouse and the Mormons, we'll come and marry you. We don't "atone blood," but we won't stand to have Stenhouse maligned; so you look out.

(Sig.) 27 MORMON WOMEN.

We weaken on the turn. Will some one take our place? "27 Mormon women!" P-h-e-w! We apologize. We don't edit the Vedette—Stenhouse is a good fellow—a brave man—and he can look a dog in the face! Besides, he never did borrow a pair of brass knuckles. "27 M—"—"O Lord have mercy upon us miserable sinners!" Don't shoot this way! We are not the man! 27 wives! We'll go!

FREE SCHOOLS IN RICHMOND.—The Richmond Republic has an interesting article upon the free schools established in that city by the Union Commission. We quote a couple of paragraphs:

"Over the building in which the boys' school is taught there floats a beautiful United States flag—the expressive symbol of the spirit that prevails and the work that is done on the premises. The children are taught that the friends of the Union are their friends, and that the Union itself is their friend. But that nothing that can wound their feelings or lessen their self respect is done or said or encouraged. If any are badly clad, clothes are given them; if they hunger they are fed; if they are sick, they are visited; and it would be unnatural, indeed, if they and their parents were not sincerely and strongly attached to their benefactors.

On four nights in the week the grown people of Belvidere Hill, of both sexes, who have not been blessed with an education, meet at the Laboratory schools and receive gratuitous instruction. On some nights as many as thirty-five attend, and apply themselves with an eagerness and earnestness that is inspiring. Some of the pupils in the day school are enough in earnest to come to the night school also. A Massachusetts school teacher, trying for an hour to show a one legged Confederate soldier how to write, and doing it all with pleasure and delight is a subject for an artist."

Full returns from New Hampshire give Smyth, Union, 5,220 majority for Governor, over Sinclair, Democrat. In 1864 President Lincoln's majority was 3,529. Such are the "gains" the Copperheads brag of.

Thad Stevens as a Satirist

REMARKS FROM A GRIZZLY BEAR

The speech of Mr. Thad Stevens of Pennsylvania in the House on Saturday, was mainly a rehash of his former argument for the State suicide dogma, which he is very loth to give up. He said he made this speech, written some time since, because he did not want to lose the manuscript, but the object was evidently to introduce a satirical attack upon the President, which would have had an awkward effect standing alone, without some sort of backer and for relief. Having completed his argument in defense of the hobby of which Senator Sumner and himself have joint and exclusive ownership he proceeded in a tone of suppressed drollery to deny that he is hostile to the President and said:

"I feel great regard for the President. I honor his integrity, his patriotism, his courage and the purity of his intentions. But all this does not make me less free to criticise his policy and doubt his judgement on some occasions. When I deem his views incorrect I say so, and I shall ever denounce them, if I please."

Mr. Price of Iowa, republican, wanted some information. He called attention to the fact that one Thaddeus Stevens had been denounced by the President, and he wanted to know if the gentleman now speaking in such warm terms of the President, was the same man there denounced.

Mr. Stevens—"Does my friend suppose that speech, which it was reported the President delivered in front of the White House, was a fact? (Laughter.) If so I desire to put him right. I will make a confidential communication, and I presume that nobody will violate the confidence which I repose in him. Sir, that speech, which has imposed upon the gentleman from Iowa, and which had a considerable run and has made some impression on the public mind, was one of the grandest hoaxes that have ever been perpetrated, and more successful than any except the 'moon hoax,' which I am told, deceived many astute astronomers." (Laughter.) I am now glad of an opportunity, although I do not wish it to go out publicly, lest my motive might be misunderstood, of exonerating the President from ever having made that speech. (Laughter.) It is a part of the cunning contrivance of the Copperhead party, which has been proscribing our President since the fourth of March last. Taking advantage of an unfortunate incident which happened on that occasion, they have been ever since constantly denouncing him as being addicted to low and degrading vice. To show you that, and in order to prove the truth of what I say about this hoax, I send up to be read a part of that same slander taken from the New York World of March 7, 1865."

An article attacking Vice President Johnson for drunkenness on inauguration day was read.

Mr. Niblack of Indiana, democrat—"I beg to inquire whether that may not also be a hoax, in the same way as the President's speech was?"

Mr. Stevens—"That was a serious slander inserted in the New York World. Taking advantage of an incident, which, it is thought by many, was brought about by themselves, they have been ever since persecuting him with such slanders as that. But although they have asserted it from time to time, they have never made the loyal republican people of this nation believe it, and they never can. We never credit, but look with indignation on the slander thus uttered against the President of our choice. (Laughter.) Being unable to fix such odium upon our President by direct evidence, they bring in evidence aliunde. With the skill of a practiced advocate in a 'case de lunatico inquirendo,' where the outside evidence was doubtful, they cautiously led the subject of the inquiry to speak on the question of his hallucination, and if they can get him to gabble and talk nonsense, then the intrinsic evidence in the case is made out. (Laughter.) Now if those slanderers could make the people believe that the President ever uttered that speech, then they have made out their case. (Continued laughter.) But we know that he never did utter it. It is not possible, and I am glad of this opportunity to relieve him from that odium. But they had wrought it up in such a cunning way,—"

Mr. Winfield of New York, democrat, interrupting—"May I hope that the injunction of secrecy will be removed from this earnest and sincere defense?"

Mr. Stevens—"Oh, no, I hope no one will violate my confidence. Now, sir, these gentlemen worked up their hoax very cunningly. For instance: they pretended that the counsel of the assassins of the late President escorted him to the stone wall on which it is alleged he stood, and they also pretend that he was supported on one side by the late rebel Mayor of this city, who was provided lodgings at Government expense near the mouth of New York harbor. Some people may have believed all this; but we who know the President cannot be so deceived. The loyal republican party which elected him to office know it was a lie from the first. (Laughter.) They doubtless made some persons believe, sir, that this speech was really delivered at that time and in that place, but we know better (Laughter.) And I am sure that, with all their adroitness, they will never succeed in imposing it upon any considerable number of the persons who elected the President to his position. I must say, however, that I am glad of this accidental interruption, which has enabled me to make the fact a matter of history, and I hope nothing will ever occur to disturb my pleasant and harmonious relations with the Executive." (Laughter.)

Mr. Price of Iowa, republican, said he was sure, after what the gentleman had confidentially communicated to the House, that the person alluded to by the President was not the honorable member from Pennsylvania. (Laughter.)

GOLD AND GOVERNMENTS.—Gold was offered for sale with unusual eagerness yesterday, on a steadily declining market—the currency rate falling as low as 127¼, without eliciting any remarkable inquiry from any source. This is the lowest point reached by the precious metal in nearly three years, or since the early autumn of 1863, when sales were made as low as 122. The heaviest fall last year was to 128½ in May. The favorable financial and commercial news from Europe, extensive reports of cotton, provisions, and other kinds of domestic produce, and the consequent extreme depression in the foreign exchanges, the gigantic revenues and diminished expenditures of our Government, the rapid improvement in the public credit, and the encouraging prospect of the funding bill in Congress combine to accelerate the downfall of the speculative idol of recent times, and to bring back commercial values to their normal level. On the other hand the national securities have been of late in unusually moderate supply and brisk request in the open market, leading to a steady appreciation of both the coin bearing bonds and the seven-thirty notes. The latter passed their nominal par value toward the close of last week, for the first time, we believe, since the whole of this popular loan was so promptly marketed through the energy and enterprise of the Government agent, and of his banking connections throughout the country, especially the great commission houses on Nassau and Wall streets, in this city. The investment demand for the currency-bearing portion of the public stocks is extraordinarily active, stimulated by the sharp decline in gold, which increases the purchasing power of income derived from interest payments in greenbacks, as in the instance of the seven-thirties, certificates of indebtedness, and ultimately of compound interest notes. Seven thirties of the first issue sold last Saturday as high as 100¾, and interest added from February 15th, at the rate of two cents a day on each hundred dollar note. Those of the second issue brought par and interest at the same rate from December 15th, 1865, or equal to 101 84 for each hundred dollar note. This was within about two per cent of the ruling figures for the original five twenty six per cent gold bearing bonds, which were selling at 104¼, including the coin interest for four months and a half ($2 25), worth, with gold at even 128, two dollars and eighty eight cents, leaving the net cost to the purchaser of this favorite United States six per cent coin bearing stock only eighty-seven cents above the nominal par value of each hundred dollar bond. At the going rates, liberal purchases of all issues of the five twenties and ten-forties were also made by parties buying to hoard, and not for speculative purposes. The latest European advices report a lively inquiry for this United States security, especially in the German markets, where its popularity is so decided, that according to the even resolutely adverse authority of the London Times all attempts to bring any other securities upon the market are unavailing."—New York Times March 20th.

THE RUSSELL MINISTRY AND THE AMERICAN CLAIMS.—The recent discussions on American affairs in the new Parliament of England indicate an evident backing down from the Russell and Clarendon policy on our American claims. There has been no definite vote on the question as yet, but there have been expressions of opinion that can hardly fail to render Lord Clarendon more open to conviction by Minister Adams in any future correspondence that may take place in reference to our claims for indemnity. Even the London Times now admits that additional evidence strengthens the complaints of the United States Government of a rather slack observance of the neutrality laws in the matter of fitting out Confederate privateers. The Irish troubles, and the possibility of the appearance of a few Fenian privateers on the ocean, are opening the eyes of the British public to the consequences that may result from a practical application of the Russell principles of neutrality during the American civil war, and we now look for a commission to arbitrate our claims, and revise the international laws on the subject of neutrality in a manner that will vindicate Secretary Seward's statesmanship to the world.

The feeling on this subject in England is well illustrated by a motion in the House of Commons, of which we have news by the last European steamer. Gregory, an Irish Tory member and an ardent supporter of Jeff Davis and the Confederacy, both in and out of the last Parliament, moved an address to the Queen in favor of the principle of excepting private property at sea from capture. He urged, truly enough, that it would be suicidal for England to allow a continuation of privateering and a lax interpretation of the neutrality laws, inasmuch as she was liable to lose her entire carrying trade in the event of another war. The motion was debated at considerable length, but the meagre telegraphic synopsis presents a mere outline of the arguments. The Government officials object to it on the ground that the Government should be left free to act, and that its adoption would be impolitic and difficult. The motion was therefore withdrawn, after serving the useful purpose of flashing upon English convictions the possible results of English policy during the American civil war.

The rumors of the breaking up of the Russell Ministry have subsided for the present. It appears, however, that Earl Russell only maintains his position by sufferance, in consequence of the difficulty of finding a suitable successor. He is only a sort of compromise Premier, a half way man between the Derby and Gladstone schools, neither of which can take offence in the present temper of parties and opinion. But the Ministry is sorely badgered about the other plagues, and is evidently short lived.—New York Commercial, March 14th.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

WATER WHEELS.

POWER PLEDGED EQUAL TO ANY
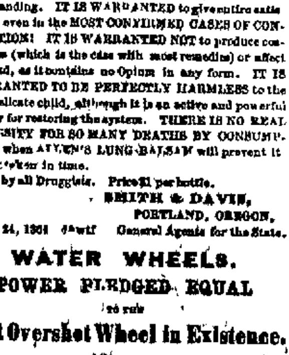
Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.



Prices Greatly Reduced!
Prices Greatly Reduced!

LEFFEL'S
American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 46 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to compelled to announce in the behalf of the public, that

JACOB MAYER
Leased the building of me Feb. [illegible], 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency as is now known as greenbacks, and as we understood, they were Cash. Since the date above I have received the depreciated currency for the rent of the CITY OF PARIS STORE, making less than two-fifths of the rent said Mayer was to pay. [illegible] building at very advantageous [illegible] even were he to pay in coin [illegible] tract, and pay in Coin, would be [illegible]
the best bargain in the city. [illegible] this statement to show the public what kind of a man he is [illegible] [illegible] advantage of the times to convert a [illegible]
